I'm Really from Corpus Christi

Austin is home to an annual short video contest. This year, I decided to put together some very amateurish video just for fun and enter. Let me say right off that I did not win. That honor goes to video makers with much more talent and experience. The experience, however, was such a tremendous learning experience that it has inspired me to do more. I will do that.

In the meantime, I am putting my seven-minute video out there for the world to see. It's titled, "I'm Really from Corpus Christi." Enjoy it!
